Les Misérables on MASTERPIECE

The greatest novel. The greatest adaptation.

A blockbuster novel for over 150 years comes vividly to life in screenwriter Andrew Davies' multi-layered adaptation of "Les Misérables" by Victor Hugo. Love, death, and the struggle for social justice in early 19th-century France feature in this beautifully faithful retelling (not a musical) of one of the world's most beloved stories, airing in six episodes on Masterpiece.

"Les Misérables" opens after the Battle of Waterloo in 1815, which saw Napoleon's final defeat by the English and their allies, a quarter of a century after the French Revolution. With Napoleon's downfall, the French monarchy is restored and the thwarted ideals of the republic go underground. For most of that quarter century, Jean Valjean has been serving a sentence of hard labor for stealing a loaf of bread. On his release the same year as Waterloo, he soon resorts to petty crime, risking re-arrest and a life sentence.

Dominic West stars as fugitive Jean Valjean, with David Oyelowo as his pursuer, Inspector Javert, and Lily Collins as the luckless single mother, Fantine. Ellie Bamber and Josh O'Connor costar as the young lovers Cosette and Marius.

"Les Misérables" on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 14th and Fridays at 10:30 p.m. on the 19th and 10:00 p.m. on the 26th. On 3-1, it airs Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 14th and Mondays at 1:00 p.m. beginning the 15th.

Joseph Pulitzer: Voice of the People

"Joseph Pulitzer: Voice of the People" on American Masters is a ground-breaking exploration of a newspaper magnate whose work is largely Pulitzer's personal story is a riveting variation on the American Dream narrative. Pulitzer (1847-1911) arrived in the United States during the Civil War as a penniless young Jewish immigrant from Hungary who spoke no English and proceeded to create two best-selling newspapers—and a major fortune.

Pulitzer was famous in his own time for the outsized financial success of his newspapers and his outspoken, cantankerous editorial voice. From the start of his career as a journalist, Pulitzer championed what he regarded as the sacred role of the free press in a democracy. His newspaper, the New York World, transformed media and made him wealthy, admired, and feared.

"Joseph Pulitzer: Voice of the People" on American Masters airs on 3-2 Friday, the 12th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 14th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Saturday, the 13th at 7:00 p.m.

Reconstruction: America After the Civil War

Reconstruction: America After the Civil War, a new four-hour documentary hosted by Henry Louis Gates, Jr., presents the definitive history of one of the least understood chapters in American history—the transformative years following the American Civil War, when the nation struggled to rebuild itself in the face of profound loss, massive destruction, and revolutionary social change.

The film takes a broad view of the Reconstruction era and its aftermath, beginning with the hopeful moment of war's end and emancipation in 1865, and carrying through to 1915, when the nation was fully entrenched in Jim Crow segregation.

HOUR ONE: Four million newly freed African Americans faced the future untethered from the old plantation system, with few rights or protections, and surrounded by an intensely resistant white population. Within a few months of war's end, President Andrew Johnson's lenient treatment of former Confederates incited a powerful response among Northerners, especially the Republicans in Congress. In the first presidential election after the Civil War, African American men, voting for the first time in the South, helped send Republican war hero Ulysses S. Grant to the White House.

HOUR TWO: The first black men took seats in the U.S. Congress, in Southern state governments and on juries; black colleges opened and the Southern states' first public school systems were organized; newly created black institutions flourished; and black families began buying land to farm and opened businesses.

At the same time, white reactionaries in the former Confederacy launched violent attacks to re-establish the old order—a society built on white supremacy. Northern support for Reconstruction eventually faded and by the 1876 Presidential election, both leading candidates—Democrat and Republican—pledged to bring an end to Reconstruction.

HOUR THREE: The transitional years of 1877–1896 set the stage for the rise of Jim Crow and the undermining of Reconstruction's legal and political legacy. In 1883, the U.S. Supreme Court gutted the Civil Rights Act of 1875, making it legal for business owners to refuse to serve black patrons. Plessy v. Ferguson took center stage at the U.S. Supreme Court, where "separate but equal"—since known as Jim Crow Laws—would become the law of the land.

HOUR FOUR: Thirty years after the end of the Civil War, North and South had gone a long way toward reconciling under an American identity that cropped out black people and ignored their claims to the rights of citizenship under the Constitution. White supremacist propaganda began to change the story of the Civil War and its aftermath, glorifying the fallen heroes of the Confederacy and painting Reconstruction as a tragic mistake.

The dream of an interracial democracy was brief and, more than 150 years later, the broken promises of the Reconstruction era continue to haunt the nation.

Reconstruction: America After the Civil War will be broadcast on 3-2 Tuesdays, the 9th and 16th from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. and Sundays, the 21st and 28th from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. On 3-1, it airs Mondays, the 15th and 22nd from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

KOREA: The Never-Ending War

Sheds New Light on a Geopolitical Hot Spot

KOREA: The Never-Ending War, a two-hour documentary, takes a new look at the history of the Korean War, a conflict that people worldwide have long underestimated, misunderstood, and misrepresented. The film encompasses the present and past of the conflict, from today's leaders and events—including U.S. President Donald Trump and North Korea's Kim Jong Un—to historic moments and personalities of the past.

The Korean War was a gigantic global event: 24 nations took part in the struggle that lasted three full years, June 25th, 1950 to July 27th, 1953. It displayed the outsized egos of enormous historical personalities and marked the lives and deaths of millions of anonymous people—historians estimate four million died.

The film provides multiple views of the war—on the ground and in the trenches, from ordinary citizens and soldiers caught in the crossfire, to the political and military leaders who pulled the strings and controlled the fate of the war from far away. It features key battles and turning points before the war, during the war, and the war's aftermath, leading to the present day.

The Korean War forced the U.S. into becoming the world's policeman, with a large standing army, huge defense budget, military bases around the world, and all but routinely intervening in far-off conflicts.

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur is shown inspecting troops of the 24th Infantry on his arrival at Kimpo airfield for a tour of the battlefront.

The film demonstrates how the consequences of the war's stalemate have led to today, where Kim Jong Un is developing nuclear weapons and ballistic missiles and American war ships have been deployed near the Korean peninsula—and the tense relations continue, despite recent diplomatic efforts.

KOREA: The Never-Ending War airs on 3-2 Monday, the 29th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs late night Monday, the 30th at 12:00 midnight and in early May, Sunday, the 5th at 9:00 p.m.

INDEPENDENT

THE PROVIDERS

Against overwhelming odds, three medical practitioners in rural New Mexico are making a difference in the lives of their patients.

Set in rural New Mexico—the site of a physician shortage and an opioid epidemic— "The Providers" on Independent Lens follows three healthcare professionals at El Centro, a group of safety-net clinics that offer care to all, regardless of ability to pay. El Centro Family Health centers are spread across sites in northern New Mexico, including Truchas, Springer, Roy, Dixon, Taos, Anton Chico, Ribera, Española, and Las Vegas.

The journeys of the providers unfold as they work to reach those who would otherwise be left out of the healthcare system. The film shows the transforma-

The three providers—family physician Leslie Hayes, nurse practitioner Chris Ruge, and El Centro Medical Director Matt Probst—remain unfailingly compassionate despite a range of challenges from the system to their patients, and sometimes even their own families.

Leslie believes it is critical for primary care doctors to treat patients who use opioids as part of their regular practice. When other physicians don't want "those people" in their medical center, she says, "they're already in your waiting room—you're just not identifying and treating them."

Medical director and physician assistant Matt is coping with the physician shortage and has begun training other physician assistants to be the new front line of medical care. His own background includes two family members who have struggled with addiction. Nurse practitioner Chris is part of a special program that allows him to visit the homes of the most marginalized patients.

"The Providers" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 8th at 9:00 p.m., Sunday, the 14th at 5:00 p.m., and Sunday, the 21st at 12:00 noon. On 3-1, it can be seen Friday, the 12th at 9:00 p.m.

FRONTLINE

Marcos Doesn't Live Here Anymore

"Marcos Doesn't Live Here Anymore" examines the U.S. immigration system through the lives of two unforgettable protagonists whose lives reveal the human cost of deportation. Elizabeth Perez, a decorated U.S. Marine veteran living in Cleveland, fights to reunite her family after her undocumented husband, Marcos, is deported. Meanwhile, Marcos is alone in Mexico, working as a soccer referee, struggling with depression and fighting the urge to cross the border illegally to see his family.

The film follows Elizabeth on her mission to bring back Marcos, which she pursues with the take-no-prisoners attitude of a Marine squad leader. She strategizes with lawyers and organizers on how best to move a seemingly unmovable government bureaucracy and speaks to crowds of immigrants, advocating for better treatment for undocumented workers and their families.

When Elizabeth's efforts hit a legal brick wall, she must plan for the unthinkable alternative: leaving the U.S. with her children to live in exile in Mexico.

"Marcos Doesn't Live Here Anymore" on Front-line airs on 3-2 Monday, the 15th at 8:00 p.m. On 3-1, the program can be seen Friday, the 19th at 9:00 p.m.

The last time the ozone hole was front-page news, President Ronald Reagan was still in the Oval Office. In 1985, scientists from NASA and the British Antarctic Survey discovered a severely damaged section of

OZONE HOLE HOW WE SAVED THE PLANET

Earth's ozone layer over Antarctica. The "ozone hole" was caused by ozone-eating chemicals called chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) used as refrigerants in air conditioners and propellants in aerosol spray cans. Without the ozone layer, our planet would have no protection against the sun.

The discovery galvanized public opinion, particularly over concerns about the risks associated with increased exposure to ultraviolet radiation: widespread crop and livestock farming failures; increased rates of skin cancer; cataracts in both people and animals; and severe sunburn from stepping outdoors for 5 minutes. Had the ozone hole gone unnoticed, life on Earth would have collapsed by the year 2065.

Scientists and politicians convinced two of the most unlikely eco-warriors in history—Ronald Reagan and Margaret Thatcher—to take action. Vigorous leadership by Reagan and the then British prime minister Thatcher, a trained chemist, was crucial during the negotiations of a historic treaty, the Montreal Protocol. For the very first time, the world decided to ban environmentally harmful substances. Often dubbed the world's most successful environmental agreement, the treaty was signed on September 16th, 1987. As a result, the damage caused to the ozone layer by industrial gases is slowly but surely reversing.

Ozone Hole: How We Saved the Planet can be seen on 3-2 Wednesday, the 10th at 9:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 16th at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 10th at 8:00 p.m.

LEANING OUT

The Life and Work of the Twin Towers Structural Engineer

Leaning Out is an intimate look into the life and work of Leslie E. Robertson, a legendary engineer in high-rise design across the globe and the structural engineer of the Twin Towers. The architect in charge, Minoru Yamasaki, was known for his desire to ditch the old concept of the glass skyscraper by his highly efficient use of steel. For both men, the World Trade Center (WTC) became the endeavour of a lifetime.

In 1945, a B-25 crashed into the seventy-eighth and seventy-ninth floors of the Empire State Building, killing fourteen people. While working on the WTC, Robertson considered what may happen if a building is hit by a plane. He designed the towers to withstand a Boeing 707, not two fully-fuelled 767s travelling at hundreds of miles an hour.

When the unthinkable happened, it called into question the structures and the work of Robertson, who was singled out as the scapegoat of the disaster. Families of 9/11 victims demanded answers

An interesting point is the actual length of time during which the WTC resisted the impact and the heat of burning aircraft fuel before collapsing. An investigation eventually proved that the way the towers had been built gave enough time to allow many thousands to evacuate safely. Tragically, 2,754 people died that day, though the towers protected many others.

As an engineer who prepared for every scenario with confidence, meeting all challenges with precaution, Robertson never could have predicted what actually happened on 9/11, how it would affect his family, and the enormous guilt he still carries.

Leaning Out airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 28th at 3:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Tuesday, the 30th at 8:00 p.m.

The Reluctant Radical

The Reluctant Radical follows activist Ken Ward as he confronts his fears and puts himself in the direct path of the fossil fuel industry to combat climate change. As a last resort, Ken breaks the law to fulfill what he sees as his personal obligation to future generations. After twenty years leading environmental organizations, Ken became increasingly alarmed by both the scientific evidence of climate change and the repercussions for civilization as we know it.

Facing 20 years in prison for his actions, the film reveals both the personal costs and also the fulfillment that comes from following one's moral calling.

The Reluctant Radical will be broadcast on 3-2 Thursday, the 18th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, the program can be seen Tuesday, the 23rd at 9:00 p.m.

J Schwanke's Life in Bloom

J Schwanke's Life in Bloom is a 13-part series about flower arrangement, design, and instruction, hosted by J Schwanke, a fourthgeneration florist and well-known floral educator. The series aims to help viewers have fun with flowers and incorporate their beauty into their homes and everyday lives.

Research shows the presence of flowers triggers happy emotions, eases depression, refreshes memory, and heightens feelings of life satisfaction.

J takes viewers all over the world, touring flower farms, greenhouses, markets, and festivals. His guests include such friends as P. Allen Smith, who joins J on a tour of spectacular gardens.

J Schwanke's Life in Bloom airs on 3-2 Saturdays at 10:30 a.m. beginning the 20th. On 3-1, it airs Sundays at 2:30 p.m. beginning the 7th.

Garry Winogrand: All Things are Photographable

Described as a "poet" of photography, Garry Winogrand captured the American 1960s and '70s. His Leica M4 snapped spontaneous images of every-day people, from the Mad Men era of New York to the early years of the Women's Movement to post-Golden Age Hollywood. Once derided by the critics, Winogrand's "snapshot aesthetic" is now the universal language of contemporary image making.

"Garry Winogrand: All Things are Photographable" on American Masters is the first cinematic treatment of his work, and includes selections from thousands of rolls of film.

"Garry Winogrand" on American Masters airs on 3-2 Friday, the 19th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 21st at 10:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Saturday, the 20th at 7:00 p.m.

MASTERPIECE.

DCI Cassie Stuart and DI Sunny Khan

Unforgotten Season 3

Nicola Walker and Sanjeev Bhaskar reprise their roles as DCI Cassie Stuart and DI Sunny Khan as they investigate another cold case, in "Unforgotten 3," a six-part series on Masterpiece.

When the police fail to find out what happened to a 16-year-old girl who went missing on the eve of the millennium, Cassie becomes determined to correct the mistakes made by the original investigating team—whatever the cost to herself.

A close-knit group of old school friends hold the key to what happened. As the four suspects find themselves under the spotlight, their tight bond is put to the test. They all have secrets in their past—events that have pulled their lives apart. None of them are quite who they first seem to be, but is one of them capable of murder?

"Unforgotten 3" on Masterpiece airs on 3-2 Sundays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 7th. On 3-1, it airs Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 7th and Mondays at 2:00 p.m. beginning the 8th.

All Things Bakelite: The Age of Plastic

In 1907, Belgian-born American chemist Leo Hendrik Baekeland made one of the most transformative discoveries of the 20th century—the first wholly synthetic plastic, which he called Bakelite. All Things Bakelite: The Age of Plastic is a joyous and provocative one-hour documentary that captures both the wonder and the curse of Baekeland's alchemy.

Baekeland's invention ushered in an explosion of new man-made materials that marked the beginnings of our modern industrial age and changed our way of life. More than a century since Baekeland found success in his lab, his invention remains central to our culture, still used in hundreds of ways worldwide, from the automotive and aerospace industries to guitars, that gain their unique sound from its properties.

In the film, Baekeland is seen as a curious boy growing up in Ghent, Belgium, then as a persistent chemist and inventor in New York, and later as an old man reflecting on the toll of running the world-circling industrial empire that resulted from the intersection of an immigrant's dreams and his genius at chemistry and entrepreneurship.

The film's 2019 release coincides with the 110th anniversary year of the Bakelite patent.

All Things Bakelite: The Age of Plastic can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 9th at 10:00 p.m. and Thursday, the 11th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Wednesday, the 3rd at 7:00 p.m. and Tuesday, the 9th at 7:00 a.m.

Breakthrough: The Ideas that Changed the World

Breakthrough: The Ideas that Changed the World is a mind-blowing journey through human history, told through six iconic objects that modern people take for granted. See how science, invention, and technology built on one another to change everything.

In "Telescope," meet the brilliant minds throughout history—from Galileo to Edwin Hubble— responsible for creating the telescope. Today, their invention allows humanity to reach the furthest.

Then in "Airplane," take to the sky with the dreamers whose work gave humans the ability to fly—from Leonardo da Vinci's "flying machines" to the modern commercial plane. Without these inventions, we may have never left the ground.

Learn how robots were first conceptualized in ancient Rome and see how their use has evolved over the centuries, from the calculator to the Roomba, in "Robot."

Other episodes are "Car," "Rocket," and "Smartphone."

Breakthrough: The Ideas that Changed the World airs on 3-2 Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 17th. On 3-1, the series airs Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 17th

The Egg: Life's Perfect Invention

The egg is perhaps nature's most perfect life support system. These remarkable structures nurture new life, protecting it from the outside world while still allowing it to breathe. But how is an egg made? Why are they the shape they are? Perhaps most importantly, why lay an egg at all? With host Sir David Attenborough (shown), "The Egg: Life's Perfect Invention" reveals the wonder behind these incredible miracles of nature.

There are nearly 10,000 species of birds on earth and each one lays eggs. From the smallest bee hummingbird egg to the biggest ostrich egg, birds create eggs in an infinite array of sizes, shapes, colors, and patterns.

"The Egg" features noteworthy facts about more than a dozen birds, including the domestic chicken, emperor penguin, cuckoo, ostrich, goldcrest, albatross, and reed warbler.

The cuckoo, for example, never builds a nest or cares for its young. Instead, it tries to trick other species, such as reed warblers, into accepting its egg and raising its baby. But new research has shown that the cuckoo's forgery skills are increasingly being put to the test by the warblers, which are producing more elaborate patterns on their own shells—like watermarks on paper.

"The Egg" on Nature airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 10th at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 13th at 11:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs Wednesday, the 10th at 9:00 p.m., Thursday, the 11th at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, the 13th at 4:00 p.m., and Monday, the 15th at 6:00 a.m.

American Spring LIVE

Get a front row seat to the change of seasons when Nature presents "American Spring LIVE." For three consecutive nights, witness the change from winter to spring in real time from iconic locations across America—in ecosystems ranging from the Rockies to the Everglades, from inner-city parks to remote wilderness preserves. The special includes a mix of live and pre-taped footage highlighting some of the most pivotal events in nature's calendar.

Each episode is built around a central theme chosen to reveal how the new season triggers extraordinary biological change: Birth and Rebirth, Migration, and Connections.

"American Spring LIVE" on Nature airs on 3-2 Monday, the 29th through Wednesday, May 1st at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it airs the same evenings at 9:00 p.m.
