King James I

The Stuarts: A Bloody Reign

The Royal House of Stuart ruled over England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland during one of the bloodiest eras in British history: the 17th century. In The Stuarts: A Bloody Reign, a four-part series, historian Kate Williams researches and illuminates the lasting legacy of this dynasty.

Following the death of Queen Elizabeth I in 1603, King James VI of Scotland claims her throne along with the new title of King James I of England. He faces numerous attempts on his life, including the notorious Gunpowder Plots, and the threat of the terrifying Thirty Years War raging on the continent.

King Charles I succeeds his father King James I in 1625. He marries the daughter of the King of France, a Catholic, which arouses suspicion among his Protestant countrymen. As a result of these tensions, Charles I dissolves parliament three times in the first four years of his rule and in 1629, dissolves parliament altogether. Religious upheaval and authoritarian rule eventually lead to civil war. In the end, a king is beheaded and a commoner named Oliver Cromwell seizes power.

Oliver Cromwell's Commonwealth comes to an end soon after his death in 1660, and an exiled King Charles II returns to London with an enormous fanfare. His reign is a dramatic shift away from the rule of the Puritans that precede him, but dual tragedies—the worst outbreak of plague in generations and the Great Fire of London—strike at the nation's heart.

Kings James II succeeds his brother King Charles II in 1685. He was a Catholic monarch of a Protestant nation and attempts had already been made to prevent him from claiming the throne. The last of the Stuart Kings would reign for only three years and it would be his own daughter, Mary, who would be his downfall. She, along with her husband, William of Orange, would overthrow the House of Stuart.

The Stuarts: A Bloody Reign can be seen on 3-2 Sundays at 7:00 p.m. and again at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 15th. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 15th and Tuesdays at 1:00 p.m. beginning the 17th.

Secrets of the Royal Servants

In Secrets of the Royal Servants, historian Kate Williams illustrates life at Buckingham Palace through the eyes of those who see the royals in a way no one else does: the royal servants. She explores why so many people are willing to dedicate their lives to this demanding and exhausting work.

The program features testimonies from Prince Charles' former butler, a royal cook revealing the Queen's surprisingly simple favorite treat, and a footman of the Queen Mother recounting his most embarrassing gaffe.

Secrets of the Royal Servants can be seen on 3-2 Friday, the 6th at 10:00 p.m., Sunday, the 8th at 10:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 15th at 6:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Sunday, the 15th at 9:00 p.m.

Call the Midwife Holiday Special

In this year's Call the Midwife Holiday Special, Mother Mildred and the Nonnatus House team head for the Outer Hebrides. They arrive on a remote, idyllic Scottish island where the residents have a desperate need for nurses and midwives.

Exposed to the elements, they operate in bleak conditions with limited access to water and electricity to help their patients, but with just enough time to reconvene in Poplar for Christmas.

Season nine premieres in early 2020.

Call the Midwife Holiday Special airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 25th at 8:00 p.m. It airs on 3-1 Saturday, the 28th at 8:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m.

The midwives are having a very "baaa-d" bus trip.

Jane Austen: Behind Closed Doors

In Jane Austen: Behind Closed Doors, Lucy Worsley traces novelist Jane Austen's life and career as she visits the homes and holiday apartments where Jane Austen spent time and which served as inspiration for the settings of her novels. The Pride and Prejudice author used houses and property as central themes in her work, and was very much influenced by where she lived.

On a journey that takes her across England, Lucy visits properties that still exist, from grand stately homes to seaside apartments, and brings to life those that have disappeared. The result is a revealing insight into one of the world's best-loved authors.

Jane Austen: Behind Closed Doors airs on 3-2 Friday, the 27th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 29th at 6:00 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Tuesday, the 31st at 7:00 p.m.

Doolittle's Raiders: A Final Toast

Doolittle's Raiders: A Final Toast features the final official public reunion of the surviving Raiders and takes a detailed look at the Doolittle Raid.

Three of the four surviving Doolittle's Raiders gathered at the National Museum of the United States Air Force near Dayton, OH to drink a final toast to their fallen comrades, from a bottle of 1896 Hennessy cognac. They are the last of the 80 aircrew from an all-volunteer U.S. Army Air Corps B-25 bomber group selected to bomb the Japanese mainland after the United States declared war on Japan on December 8, 1941.

On April 18, 1942, these American flyers, aboard 16 B-25 bombers and led by famed commander Lt. Col. James Harold Doolittle, participated in one of history's greatest military missions—they had taken the fight directly to the enemy, delivering retribution for Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. The audacious raid boosted the morale of America and China, and showed the Japanese their homeland was not invulnerable.

Doolittle's Raiders: A Final Toast can be seen on 3-2 Tuesday, the 10th at 7:00 p.m. On 3-1, it will be broadcast Thursday, the 26th at 4:00 p.m.

B-25 bombers are shown on the deck of the USS Hornet before the Doolittle Raid.

The special features performers from seven nations in a display of inspirational patriotic music, majestic pipes and drums, and show stopping drill team maneuvers.

Music & Might: Above and Beyond the Call of Duty will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 1st at 10:00 p.m., Tuesday, the 10th at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 29th at 12:30 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Tuesday, the 31st at 8:00 a.m.

THE ORNAMENT OF THE WORLD

The Ornament of the World, a two-hour film, explores a remarkable time in medieval Spain when Muslims, Christians and Jews forged a common cultural identity that frequently transcended their religious differences. This era lasted almost 800 years, from 711, when Muslim armies swept across the Mediterranean, to 1492, when Christian power was consolidated under King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella.

During this period, known as La Convivencia (the coexistence), the intermingling of these three groups led to a vibrant shared culture of arts, architecture, science, music and letters, raising Spain to dazzling heights of glory and power.

In the early 16th century, however, King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella forced both Jews and Muslims to convert to Christianity, leave Spain or be slaughtered. This brought the period of La Convivencia to a painful, prolonged and bloody end.

It takes a look at the railroad that Abraham Lincoln launched; the years of planning, surveying and construction through mountains and across plains by thousands of Chinese and Irish immigrants; the immense task that was marked with a Golden Spike driven at a lonely place in Utah called Promontory and the celebrations that followed a simple telegraph message consisting of one word, “Done.”
