All Creatures Great and Small

Since their first publication in 1970, All Creatures Great and Small, the beloved books of James Alfred Wight, published under the pen name James Herriot, have held a special place in people's hearts throughout the world.

Now, James Herriot's adventures as the iconic vet get a glorious new adaptation in a seven-part series on Masterpiece. Newcomer Nicholas Ralph makes his television debut as the beloved vet who became renowned for his inspiring humor, compassion and love of life.

The series reintroduces Herriot's unconventional mentor and the cast of farmers and townsfolk who lived and worked in the Yorkshire Dales in the 1930s. This new adaptation preserves the rich spirit, tone and values of Herriot's iconic characters and stories, and brings to life his sharply observed, entertaining and incredibly funny tales of country life in the North of England for a modern audience, introducing a new generation to his life-affirming stories.

"All Creatures Great and Small" on Masterpiece will be broadcast on 3-2 Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 10th and repeats Fridays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 15th. It can be seen on 3-1 Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 10th and Mondays at 1:00 p.m. beginning the 11th.

Elizabeth Is Missing

Returning to television for the first time in nearly three decades, two-time Academy Award-winner Glenda Jackson stars as a woman desperately trying to solve two mysteries as she declines ever deeper into dementia. "Elizabeth Is Missing" is an adaptation of Emma Healey's acclaimed novel, airing on Masterpiece in a single two-hour presentation.

Jackson portrays feisty grandmother Maud Horsham, who lives alone despite early-stage Alzheimer's. She is joined by Maggie Steed who stars as Maud's only friend, Elizabeth, who ominously goes missing, leading to one of the mysteries at the heart of the drama.

The other mystery in Maud's mind is a puzzle from her past, kindled when she unearths the top of an old cosmetics compact while gardening with Elizabeth. As a young girl, Maud looked up to her big sister, Sukey, but this childhood idyll ended with Sukey's failure to come home one night in 1949, never to be seen again.

In Maud's increasingly disoriented perception, the disappearances of Sukey and now Elizabeth get mixed up. She attacks the problem with a system she uses around the house: sticky notes, posted everywhere, documenting daily reminders to herself—but also recording her meetings with Elizabeth.

As memories, clues and deductions pile up, viewers come to see the world as Maud does, and to solve the mysteries as this tenacious, vision-haunted sleuth does.

"Elizabeth Is Missing" on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 3rd at 8:00 p.m. It will be broadcast on 3-1 Sunday, the 3rd at 7:00 p.m. and Monday, the 4th at 1:00 p.m.

Miss Scarlet and The Duke

Kate Phillips stars as Victorian London's brilliant, beautiful and first-ever female sleuth in "Miss Scarlet and The Duke" premiering in six parts on Masterpiece. Stuart Martin stars as Detective Inspector William "The Duke" Wellington, her friend and associate.

The six-part series is set in London at the start of the Sherlock Holmes era, circa 1880. Eliza's father, Henry, is a talented private detective drinking through his occasional earnings. Nonetheless, he has taught his only child, Eliza, the trade since she was a girl.

When Eliza is left penniless after the death of her father, she has two choices for financial security: marriage or her father's private detective agency. She chooses the latter and is determined to break into this male-only profession.

Eliza's initial challenge is not criminals or clients so much as getting society to take a female detective seriously, even one who has mastered wounds, poisons, motives and red herrings. But she forges ahead and sees her first commission—a simple search for an older gentleman's lost niece—that soon turns into something very sinister.

"Miss Scarlet and The Duke" on Masterpiece will be broadcast on 3-2 Sundays at 7:00 p.m. beginning the 17th and Fridays at 11:00 p.m. beginning the 22nd. It airs on 3-1 Sundays at 6:00 p.m. beginning the 17th and Tuesdays at 1:00 p.m. beginning the 19th

The Long Song

"The Long Song" is based on the award-winning novel by Andrea Levy, who was born in London to Jamaican parents and spent her writing career probing her heritage. In the three-part drama on Masterpiece, Tamara Lawrance stars as July, an indomitable house slave in Jamaica during the era of emancipation, with Hayley Atwell as her demanding, capricious mistress.

"The Long Song" is framed by the reminiscences of July who is now looking back at her life. In extended flashbacks, she recounts her tumultuous story, which has been shaped by villains, heroes, and an unsettled mix of the two.

July's mother is a stoic field slave and her father is the brutal Scottish overseer of the plantation. As a young girl, July is callously taken from her mother at the whim of Caroline (Atwell), who wants July for a lady's maid. July grows up catering to Caroline's impulses.

The Christmas Rebellion of 1831, a slave uprising, heralds the end of official slavery in Jamaica and other English colonies. In the aftermath, a handsome new overseer rides into the story. He will set hearts aflutter, establish an enlightened tone with the emancipated slaves, and play a tragic role in the fates of all.

"The Long Song" on Masterpiece can be seen on 3-2 Sundays at 9:00 p.m. beginning the 31st. On 3-1, watch it Sundays at 8:00 p.m. beginning the 31st.

A Woman's Work: The NFL's Cheerleader Problem

Football and feminism collide in "A Woman's Work: The NFL's Cheerleader Problem" on Independent Lens. The film sheds light on the continued fight to end the gender pay gap prevalent throughout the National Football League.

For over 50 years, the NFL has employed cheerleaders—women who are lifelong athletes expected to both maintain a peak physical condition and fulfill extreme beauty standards. Many of these athletes have been historically underpaid, with some earning as little as $5 an hour, while others are never paid a salary at all.

"A Woman's Work" chronicles the journeys of cheerleaders from the Oakland Raiders and the Buffalo Bills, who file grueling, high-stakes class-action lawsuits against their teams and the league alleging wage theft and illegal employment practices—all the while facing exile from their communities and the job they love.

"A Woman's Work" features interviews with former cheerleaders—some who have filed lawsuits against and others who stand staunchly in support of the NFL—their family members, and labor lawyers.

"A Woman's Work: The NFL's Cheerleader Problem" on Independent Lens can be seen on 3-2 Monday, the 4th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Sunday, the 10th at 9:00 p.m.

A Day in the Life of America/ American Nomads

"A Day in the Life of America" on Independent Lens is a deep and unflinching look at a country on the verge of upheaval.

On July 4, 2017, more than 90 film crews across the country capture Americans in the midst of life, liberty and their particular pursuit of happiness. The production weaves a wide range of beliefs and backgrounds into a rich tapestry of life, contrasting the myths and ideals of America with the harsh reality for most people.

Where were you on that same day in 2017? How much has this country changed or not changed from what's reflected in this snapshot of 2017?

"American Nomads," a film short, follows "A Day in the Life." As the cost of living rises across the United States, so too is the number of people who dwell in their vehicles. Some travel across the country looking for work and to fulfill the American Dream. Others never want to settle anywhere, happy to make a home for themselves in their vans, buses and campers. Meet these "American Nomads," each having made their homes in their vehicles while living their best life on the road.

"A Day in the Life of America/American Nomads" on Independent Lens airs on 3-2 Monday, the 11th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1 Sunday, the 17th at 9:00 p.m.

AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

The Codebreaker

The fascinating story of Elizebeth Smith Friedman, the groundbreaking cryptanalyst, is revealed in "The Codebreaker" on American Experience. Friedman's painstaking work to decode thousands of messages for the U.S. government during World War II would save thousands of lives, stop fascist military coups, and send dozens of Nazi spies to prison.

Her remarkable contributions to the science of cryptology would come to light decades after her death, when thousands of secret government files were unsealed. Together with her husband (shown above), the legendary cryptographer William Friedman, Elizebeth helped develop the codebreaking methods that laid the foundation for the National Security Agency (NSA).

"The Codebreaker" on American Experience will be broadcast on 3-2 Monday, the 11th at 8:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Monday, the 11th at 7:00 p.m.

NOVA

Secrets in Our DNA

Some 30 million Americans have sent their DNA to be analyzed by companies like 23andMe and AncestryDNA, hoping to obtain clues to family origins and forecasts of their future health. Some users have found family members and discovered lurking genetic risks. But what happens once the sample is in the hands of testing companies? What are they looking at and how accurate are their results? What is the promise and peril of personal DNA?

In "Secrets in Our DNA," Nova explores the power of this information and the unintended consequences that can arise from sharing our data with these rapidly growing online databases. DNA results that offer estimates of health risks can be misleading, and the discovery of intimate family secrets can tear relationships apart.

Meanwhile, law enforcement is increasingly turning to the DNA-sharing website GEDmatch as an extraordinarily powerful tool for cracking cold cases, as demonstrated by the 2018 arrest of California's notorious Golden State Killer after 42 years at large.

Nova's "Secrets in Our DNA" airs on 3-2 Wednesday, the 13th at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, the 16th at 10:00 p.m. For 3-1 dates/times, please see the 3-1 AtoZ on page 18.

POV

The Mole Agent

In "The Mole Agent" on POV, an 83-year-old goes undercover in a Chilean nursing home in what turns out to be a surprising look at age and intimacy.

When a woman suspects her mother is suffering abuse in an elderly home, she hires a private investigator. The private investigator decides to hire 83-year-old Sergio to enter the home posing as a new member. He's there to investigate the home's staff and members, reporting his findings to the private investigator. Sergio thinks this will be a way to pass the time after losing his wife, but nothing can prepare him for the realities of senior living.

While Sergio quickly proves to be a bumbling spy, in the ilk of "The Pink Panther," he simultaneously reveals himself to be an endlessly charming gentleman. We soon realize that this isn't a spy movie—it's a story about loneliness, growing old, and the importance of human connection.

"The Mole Agent" on POV airs on 3-2 Monday, the 25th at 8:30 p.m. On 3-1, it can be seen Sunday, the 31st at 9:00 p.m.

JAZZ

The Magic of Callas

Great Performances “The Magic of Callas” is a very fortuitous film recording that offers viewers one of the few opportunities to experience the legendary Callas on stage and witness her peerless vocal interpretation and thrillingly emotional technique.

In 1964, Maria Callas returned to the opera stage as prima donna, with her performance in the title role of Tosca at London’s Royal Opera House becoming a sensation—not even the Beatles received more press coverage.

All this for an artist whose glorious career was said to be over, with scandals rather than performances most frequently generating headlines.

Unlucky in love with her billionaire boyfriend Aristotle Onassis, Callas wanted to show the world that the title of “Primadonna assoluta” was still rightfully hers. Fortunately, a British broadcaster recorded the opera’s second act, capturing one of the most dramatic acts in opera history.

“The Magic of Callas” on Great Performances airs on 3-2 Friday, the 15th at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 17th at 10:00 a.m. Enjoy it on 3-1 Saturday, the 16th at 8:00 p.m.

The Magic of Horowitz

Great Performances “The Magic of Horowitz” captures the drama and excitement of legendary pianist Vladimir Horowitz’s dramatic homecoming to Russia some sixty years after his departure in 1925, providing historical context along with documentary highlights of his long-awaited return to his native land in 1986.

Horowitz’s demanding concert program of Scarlatti, Mozart, Rachmaninoff, Scriabin, Schubert, Liszt and Chopin represented a lovingly personal selection of works, chosen as much for their private meaning as for the historic significance of the composers.

Intimate close-ups of Horowitz’s agile hands are interspersed with the reactions of the enthralled audience, revealing their unguarded emotional response. The program captures the world’s leading romantic pianist in his most magnificent and historic performance.

Great Performances “The Magic of Horowitz” airs on 3-2 Friday, the 22nd at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, the 24th at 10:00 a.m. It airs on 3-1 Saturday, the 23rd at 8:00 p.m.

American MASTERS

How It Feels to Be Free

Based on the book How It Feels to Be Free: Black Women Entertainers and the Civil Rights Movement, this American Masters presentation tells the story of how six iconic African American female entertainers challenged an entertainment industry deeply complicit in perpetuating racist stereotypes, and transformed themselves and their audiences in the process.

“How It Feels to Be Free” highlights how each woman—singer, dancer and actress Lena Horne; jazz vocalist, songwriter and actress Abbey Lincoln; Tony-winning actress, singer and model Diahann Carroll; jazz, blues and folk singer Nina Simone; actress and model Cicely Tyson; and actress Pam Grier—harnessed their celebrity to advance the civil rights movement.

The two-hour film examines the impact these trailblazing entertainers had on reshaping the narrative of Black female identity in Hollywood through their art and political activism while advocating for social change.

The film features interviews and archival performances with all six women, as well as original conversations with contemporary artists influenced by them, including Alicia Keys, an executive producer on the project, Halle Berry, Samuel L. Jackson and others.

American Masters “How It Feels to Be Free” airs on 3-2 Monday, the 18th at 9:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Sunday, the 24th at 9:00 p.m.

PBS reprises Ken Burns’ epic ten-part series Jazz, that explores the evolution of America’s greatest original art form. The series focuses on the extraordinary men and women who could do something remarkable—create art on the spot. Jazz celebrates their music in the context of the complicated country that gave birth to and influenced it, and was in turn transformed by it.

The series offers engaging portraits of many of the greatest figures in jazz—among them Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman, Bix Beiderbecke, Charlie Parker, Sarah Vaughan, Count Basie, Dizzy Gillespie, Billie Holiday, John Coltrane and Miles Davis.

Jazz is about much more than the evolution of the music alone. The film is about joy and celebration, and having a good time; it is about our greatest cities and the people who migrated to them; it is about the rise of records, radio, and television. Jazz is about minstrelsy and lynching, and the struggle for civil rights. It is about the sufferings of the Great Depression, and the sacrifices our nation made in two world wars. It is also a story about drugs and pain—and the life-affirming art that comes out of it all.

Jazz will be broadcast on 3-2 Sundays at 10:00 p.m. beginning the 10th.

An Evening with Gwen Ifill

An Evening with Gwen Ifill is a one-on-one interview of the late Gwen Ifill, one of the most prolific journalists of our time. Taped in the historic Coolidge Auditorium of the Library of Congress’ Thomas Jefferson Building, the host was one of Gwen’s close friends and fellow journalists, Michele Norris. The interview gives an insider’s perspective into Gwen’s childhood and development as a print and television correspondent.

Gwen was born to a hard-working and politically-minded Panamanian family, headed by her strict but loving father, an African Methodist Episcopal minister. From an early age, Gwen was steeped in the values of the A.M.E. church, but even then, she knew that she wanted to be a journalist.

An Evening with Gwen Ifill airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 10th at 6:00 p.m. It can be seen on 3-1 Monday, the 18th at 7:00 p.m.

Inside the Mind of Agatha Christie

With rare access to family members, scholars and her personal archive, Inside the Mind of Agatha Christie explores what made the world's most successful crime writer tick. Millions of readers worldwide know Agatha Christie's indelible characters and plot twists, but what do we know about the author herself?

Dr. John Curran has spent years poring over her personal archive, a treasure trove containing letters, manuscripts and 73 meticulously kept notebooks in which she documented everything she saw and heard. He and others explain how the author used her experiences to weave together formidable plots and how, despite being known as the queen of "cozy" crime, Agatha's mind was, in the words of screenwriter Sarah Phelps, "incredibly dark."

Inside the Mind of Agatha Christie will be broadcast on 3-2 Sunday, the 17th at 9:00 p.m. On 3-1 it can be seen Sunday, the 17th at 8:00 p.m.

Agatha Christie's England

Agatha Christie's England explores how the settings of Christie's stories and novels were, in fact, drawn from real places. Through her sensational murder mysteries, Christie created a literary universe that almost singlehandedly shaped the world's image of England.

This film visits Beacon Cove, where a young Agatha swam with her nephew when he narrowly escaped drowning, the memory of which would be reprised in her 1939 novel And Then There Were None. In Ealing, Christie witnessed her great-aunt devouring local gossip and news of gruesome murder trials, the blueprint for the fictional world of Miss Marple. And the influx of Belgian refugees into her hometown during World War I inspired another of Christie's great characters, Hercule Poirot.

Agatha Christie's England can be seen on 3-2 Sunday, the 24th at 9:00 p.m. Watch it on 3-1, Sunday, the 24th at 8:00 p.m. and Monday, the 25th at 2:00 p.m.

The American Road to Victory

The American Road to Victory is a series of engaging battlefield tours that bring viewers into the action of World War II. Careful re-enactments and archival footage are woven with the chilling testimony from veterans.

In "American D-Day," land in Saint Mére Eglise with the 82nd Airborne, scale the cliffs at La Pointe du Hoc with the Rangers, and wade through the surf on Omaha Beach with the Big Red One and the 29th Infantry Division.

"Hell's Highway" gives an in depth explanation of how all American objectives in this campaign were achieved, even though the operation in its entirety failed, and the British 1st Airborne at Arnhem were cut to shreds.

Finally, in "Americans in the Bulge," tour the frozen Ardennes Forests to Malmedy, Saint Vith, and Bastogne, and learn how the actions of US forces surprised the Nazi plan to encircle and destroy the Allied armies.

The American Road to Victory can be seen on 3-2 Sundays at 2:00 p.m. beginning the 3rd. On 3-1, it airs Sundays at 11:00 p.m. beginning the 3rd.

America's Test Kitchen Goes Home, Literally

Typically filmed in the test kitchen studios in Boston, season 21 of America's Test Kitchen pivots and takes home cooking quite literally, presenting all 26 episodes from cast members' homes. Hosts Bridget Lancaster (shown) and Julia Collin Davison and the series' test cooks are working from their very own kitchens without the army of prep cooks and dishwashers who usually support the team.

Bridget, Julia and their team deconstruct recipes and reveal the test kitchen's secrets in this special season.

Season 21 of America's Test Kitchen premieres on 3-2 Saturday, the 9th, at 8:00 a.m. and Tuesday, the 12th at 11:00 a.m. On 3-1, it begins Saturday, the 2nd at 3:00 p.m. and Wednesday, the 6th at 4:30 p.m.

Second Opinion with Joan Lunden

The award-winning Second Opinion series is a national initiative to promote health literacy and empower viewers to take charge of their healthcare. This season features new host Joan Lunden, an esteemed journalist and television personality, breast cancer survivor, and women's health advocate.

In each half-hour episode, Lunden hosts a panel of medical experts along with a real patient story that highlights a specific medical condition, disease, or public health issue in order to examine effective treatments and solutions.

Episode titles include "Coronavirus"; "Caregiving: The Sandwich Generation"; "Alzheimer's: A Public Health Crisis"; "Parkinson's Disease"; "Heart Disease in Women"; and "Cancer Spouse."

Second Opinion with Joan Lunden premieres on 3-2 Sunday, the 31st at 6:30 a.m./3:30 p.m. and Wednesdays, 10:00 p.m. beginning in February.

Prescription for Peace of Mind: An Option for the Terminally Ill

Patients diagnosed with a terminal illness want as many pain-free days as possible. Toward the end of life, many patients get palliative care, but it doesn't always end the pain. That's why many patients want their state legislators to pass a bill that will allow them to use a prescription for medication to end their lives. Proponents want autonomy and no suffering at the end of life.

In Prescription for Peace, we learn that so far, nine states and Washington, D.C., allow medical aid in dying, but some states still grapple with the ethical, moral and religious dilemmas.

In 2020, states such as Connecticut, New York, Rhode Island, Virginia and Kansas were considering a death with dignity bill, but dropped the discussion in the wake of COVID-19.

This film follows three patients who want the option of medical aid in dying. For two patients it is too late, and the third patient takes matters into her own hands.

Prescription for Peace airs on 3-2 Sunday, the 31st at 10:00 a.m.
