

KENV
FM Service
Issues/Programs List: 2nd Quarter
April, May and June 2020

Description of the issue:

Problems Caused by COVID-19 Conditions

Program	Date	Time	Description of the Program/Segment
Southwest Spotlight (5 Min.)	5/13/2020	2:20 p.m.	How to hold Commencement ceremonies with the challenge of social distancing. Phone interview with Dr. Patrice Caldwell concerning Eastern New Mexico University's Production of a Virtual Commencement to be broadcast and streamed to graduating students their parents and the general public.
	5/15/2020	9:20 a.m.
Southwest Spotlight (5 Min.)	5/27/2020	2:20 p.m.	With schools closed, how parents can set up a summer reading program for their children here in eastern New Mexico. Interview with John Houser Director of Marketing and Communication Services at ENMU concerning how to enroll a child in ENMU Reads a program involving cooperation with local libraries across the state.
	5/29/2020	9:20 a.m.
Southwest Spotlight (5 Min.)	6/17/2020	2:20 p.m.	How area cities are dealing with the challenge of recovery. Interview with Roswell Mayor Dennis Kintigh regarding that cities effort to make an economic recovery from the COVID 19 lockdown.
	6/19/2020	9:20 a.m.
Here & There with David Marash (1 hr.)	5/04/2020	2:30 p.m.	Here in NM, Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham's quick and aggressive response to the coronavirus is widely credited with saving lives, in most of the state. But among Native Americans, Covid-19 is on a

			tear, especially in the Navajo Nation. Jourdan Bennett-Begaye, Washington editor for Indian Country Today, and a proud NM Dine has the story,
Here & There with David Marash (1 hr.)	5/25/2020	2:30 p.m.	Can investigative reporters move Governors? After Jeff Proctor started writing about the lack of Covid-19 testing in New Mexico and its prisons and jails, Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham has put testing of into high gear. Tests that could be counted on your fingers has quickly moved to the thousands.
Here & There with David Marash (1 hr.)	6/29/2020	2:30 p.m.	If the Navajo Nation, 350,000 people strong, were counted as a separate state, only NY, NJ and RI could come close to it in the intensity of its outbreak of Covid-19. Caseloads and death counts are slowing, and Searchlight NM journalist Sunnie Clahchischiligi says, a lot of that is due to how hard and well the Navajo have fought back against the coronavirus.
51% (30 Min)	4/1/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, a number of groups call on former Vice President Joe Biden to choose a woman of color as his VP; a doctor in India talks about COVID-19, and Dr. Jeri Burns returns with an essay on life amid a pandemic.
51% (30 Min)	4/8/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, a nurse shares her view from the front lines; hear from a resiliency expert about coping with the COVID-19 and what is happening in the face of social distancing; and meet an intuitive songwriter.
51% (30 Min)	4/15/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, we hear about a family divided between the U.S. and Italy during COVID-19; and a woman talks about turning from a career in the pharmaceutical industry to a farm.
51% (30 Min)	4/22/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, a psychologist helps manage stress amid the COVID-19 crisis; a singer/songwriter shares her addiction problems; and music interprets sea level rise.

51% (30 Min)	4/29/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, a woman helps create a web site to mourn loved ones in a time of social distancing; hear how the COVID-19 pandemic is affecting families financially, from a hair salon owner to military families; and Dr. Jeri Burns reflects on an unintended positive impact of the pandemic.
51% (30 Min)	5/13/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, a jazz musician talks about contracting COVID-19; and three generations of women keep an olive farm in production in California. I'm Allison Dunne and this is 51%.
51% (30 Min)	5/27/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, a doctor tells what happened when she offered her help during the COVID-19 pandemic, a migraine sufferer shares her journey; and hear from a woman who co-founded a community dance class that helps senior citizens fight inactivity and isolation.
51% (30 Min)	6/17/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, the CEO of a Planned Parenthood in New York says the COVID-19 pandemic brought out more protestors, and female film students want a more accessible path to directing.
51% (30 Min)	6/24/2020	2:30 p.m.	On this week's 51%, we hear a story about the intersection of a tragedy and the COVID-19 pandemic through the story of one woman. When there were instructions to stay home and social distance, she got it.
The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	4/7/2020	2:30 p.m.	The coronavirus has forced colleges and universities to switch to online classes. And that's forced teachers and students to adapt in a hurry.
The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	4/14/2020	30:00	The fight against COVID-19 is going on today in clinics and hospitals and testing sites. But that fight began in a clinical lab. We'll talk with a microbiologist from the Mayo Clinic about how the coronavirus was identified and how tests are being developed.
The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	4/21/2020	30:00	The coronavirus pandemic has disrupted schools across the country and teachers are stepping up. We'll hear from a teacher's union leader and an educator about how programs are adapting.

The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	4/28/2020	30:00	As students around the country finish the school year at home, many are finding it takes discipline to stay on task. We'll hear from a high schooler and a grade schooler about home learning from their point of view.
The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	5/19/2020	30:00	School schedules and work schedules are competing for time and space in the home right now. Today we'll hear how books and stories are helping to keep the peace. We'll also hear about the rise of contact tracers, learn how labs rearranging their priorities, and spend an Academic Minute with some timely nursing.
The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	6/2/2020	30:00	The next phase of testing for COVID-19 will be testing to see if people have antibodies for the virus. But some scientists have written a paper saying "slow down". Today on the Best of Our Knowledge, a conversation about serum testing for the coronavirus.
The Best of Our Knowledge (30 min)	6/16/2020	30:00	A lot of people who are stuck at home staring out the window are learning to enjoy what's flying around outside that window. We'll talk about a new course on the joy of birdwatching. We'll also hear how students are making up for lost learning and some awesome technology.

Description of the issue:

Mail in Ballots for Upcoming Elections in New Mexico

Program	Date	Time	Description of the Program/Segment
Here & There with David Marash (1 hr.)	5/11/20	2:30 p.m.	The Supreme Court of Wisconsin killed some people by getting them infected with the coronavirus while voting in person. The robed Republicans overruled the Democratic governor's attempts to turn to mail-in ballots. In New Mexico, the Supreme Court has gone in a slightly different direction as UNM political science professor and election expert Lonna Atkeson discusses the issue.

Description of the issue:

Oil Price and Impact Upon Our Part of Eastern New Mexico

Here & There with David Marash (1 hr.)	6/15/2020	2:30 p.m.	The day-by-day of the global price of oil looks a prize fight starring Sylvester Stallone's Rocky Balboa... it's hit! It's cut, it's staggered, it's down! But not out, NO! Oil like Rocky is getting back on its feet. So what does this mean for gas and oil dependent New Mexico? Oil economist Janie Chermak of UNM sorts it out in depth on HERE & THERE .